What is the worst parenting advice you have ever received?
What is the worst advice you have ever given?

If you are a parent, what is harder than being a parent? If you are not a parent, what in your life do you think has helped or will help you be a good parent?

When it comes to your kids, is it difficult to think of yourself as a manager not an owner? If so, why do you think that is?

In your own words and thoughts, what is the difference between owner and steward when it comes to how your kids turn out?

In your own words and thoughts, what is the difference between owner and manager when it comes to protecting your kids?

In your own words and thoughts, what is the difference between owner and steward when it comes to providing for your kids?

What is your next step to loosening your grip on your kids and handing them to the owner?
