Craig's idea for being thankful every day and every week was to speak a genuine thank you every day, and send a thank you card every week. Does that work for you? What might be a better way for you to be thankful every day and every week in 2018?

Craig's idea for loving well every day and every week was to speak the words "I love you" every day and do a random act of love every week. Does that work for you? What might be a better way for you to love well every day and every week in 2018?

Craig's idea for being full of love and truth every day and every week was to read the Bible every day and do a ten second prayer every week. Does that work for you? What might be a better way for you to be full of love and truth every day and every week in 2018?

Craig's idea for worshiping every day and every week was to set aside a time of prayer every day, and worship with your faith family every week. Does that work for you? What might be a better way for you to worship God every day and every week in 2018?
